These brochures help market the Preserves' nature centers, activities, educational programming and other amenities which are mostly free to the public.

Subject to final review and approval of the Preserves' legal department, the Preserves now seeks to enter into a contract to purchase printing services for the seasonal brochures. To offset costs, the Preserves will be adding paid advertisements to its seasonal brochures. The two-year contract will offset current production expenses with a revenue sharing model generated by the money procured from advertisers. All advertisements will follow the Preserves' advertising policies and guidelines. All Preserves related content will remain under the direction of the Director of Communications.

This RFP was solicited on the Preserves' website resulting in two responses. Performance Media was deemed most qualified by the selection committee and selected to obtain advertisements, as well as print and distribute all brochures. ..end
